Diversity in Agriculture Leadership Program Pledge

At Prime Super, we are committed to workplace diversity.

We are proud to have equal representation of men and women within our workforce, including our senior leadership team. We also support and encourage diversity in all forms. We believe a great idea can come from anyone and we are a better business with diversity. Everyone is valued.

We are pleased to support the diversity in agriculture leadership program and its vision to empower women in agriculture to shape the future of Australia's food and fibre industry.
